Master's Seminars 2020/21

20 November 2020

Visions for the 2030s - looking ahead: questions, problems and threats

Even before the current crisis, the 2020/2021 Master Educator, Richard Evans had wanted to create a series of seminars looking into the long future. The Seminars aim to provide food for thought about long term thinking in the Education & Training Sector, but clearly will consider the short-term after corona virus/ACV as well as remembering before corona virus/BCV.

There were planned to be 3 On-Line Seminars before the Winter Break, but the November one was postponed to January 2021. The first two were as follows

Monday 14 September – 6pm On-Line

Professor Paul Palmer

Director of Centre for Charity Effectiveness, Cass Business School
A Social Purpose Management Initiative in a Business School setting

Thursday 15 October – 6pm On-Line

Rt. Hon Lord Chris Smith

Master of Pembroke College, Cambridge
